

Privacy Statement

The Computer Science Department at New Mexico State University has an obligation to protect the privacy of our student information. University staff members, including Work Study Students, Teaching Assistants, Proctors, and Graders may not share any personal information about students, staff, or faculty. This includes, but is not limited to, social security numbers, student ID numbers (Banner IDs), phone numbers and addresses, information about grades, and disciplinary history and action. Failure to adhere to the privacy statement can result in immediate termination.

The work study student's, teaching assistants', proctors', or grader's signature below indicates that you have read the above privacy statement and understands the consequences of failing to comply with it.
